What is Community Education?

Community Education is the educational philosophy that underlies community schools, and advocates the creation of opportunities for community members - individuals, schools, businesses and public and private organizations - to become partners in addressing community needs. Community Education is most easily recognized in the community school, a facility that is open beyond the traditional school day for the purpose of providing academic, recreation, health, social service, and work preparation programs for people of all ages.

Mission Statement

The mission of Saline Community Education is to deliver community education services of the highest quality to the Saline Area School District.

Welcome

A Message from the Superintendent

The Saline Area Schools team believes our work for children and families doesn't begin or end with the school day. What matters most is the support we build around every learner: the relationships, resources, and opportunities that help students and families thrive both in and beyond the classroom. Thank you to our community for renewing the CARES and Sinking Fund millages that sustain exactly this work, from the programs in this guide to the buildings that welcome you.

Just before our school year began, the Board of Education adopted a Strategic Plan to guide Saline Area Schools through 2032, shaped by a year of listening across many community conversations. We call it All Learners. Many Pathways. One Compass. All learners means every learner in this community, from our youngest preschoolers to our seniors, because all means all. That promise comes to life in Saline Community Education, where these programs shape our community and connect us across generations.

Every page of this guide offers a pathway. A class can ignite a purpose you never knew you had. A new skill invites you to explore possibilities at any age. A shared program builds connections with neighbors you might not have known otherwise. So I encourage you to try something new, embrace a challenge that stretches you, and bring a friend along.

Go Hornets!
Rachel Kowalski, Ed.D.

AI for Retirees

For retirees and seniors, the purpose of AI is a little different than someone in the workforce, running a business, or raising toddlers. Rather than using AI to compete and run the rat race, retirees use AI to improve their life, feel enriched, learn a new skill, and satisfy a curiosity. Retirees and seniors want to stay in the network of what's happening out there. This class gives AI tools for memoir making, publishing a book, health & wellness tips, travel planning, finding a cruise for less, tracing genealogy, meal preparation ideas, learning a new language, and starting a new hobby like growing bonsai and scrapbooking. No technical knowledge required. This is a fun, easy to follow class.

Digital Charm School - Staying Safe, Smart and Successful in A Digital World

Digital Charm School is a fundamental skills class for kids who are growing up in a world where online and offline life blend constantly. The program teaches children how to be safe, smart, and successful with technology by helping them understand not just how to use digital tools, but when, why, and in what way to use them. This class gives kids three core competencies: intentional technology use, online and offline safety, and the importance of incorporating analog and offline activities to offset potential digital harm. They learn why boredom matters, why physical experiences strengthen the brain, and how offline hobbies help reset overstimulated nervous systems. The class encourages drawing, journaling, building, moving, exploring, and connecting face-to-face as essential parts of a balanced digital identity. The result is a child who understands technology not as a distraction, but as a tool, and who knows how to stay safe, think clearly, and thrive both online and offline. Ages 5-12. Class ID: 5252.
